

2ND EDITION

Asia Pacific in World Politics

Derek McDougall

Praise for the previous edition:

“Cogently written, [this book] provides an excellent introduction to East and Southeast Asia. History is used creatively to cast light on the current context in the Asia Pacific and [provide] clues about how the future could unfold.”

—Varun Sahni, Contemporary Southeast Asia

“An excellent introductory overview of Asia-Pacific international relations.”

—Kazuhiko Noguchi, Pacific Affairs

“McDougall provides an excellent prognosis of the likely future directions in Asia Pacific international politics.... A ‘marker book’ for recording where the US, China, and Japan stood in terms of the challenges in the Asia Pacific region between 1989 and 2006. Highly recommended.” —Choice

Capturing the most recent currents in world affairs—without sacrificing historical context—the second edition of Asia Pacific in World Politics reflects more than a decade of new developments.

The focus on the region’s major state actors has now been broadened to include an entirely new chapter on India and greatly expanded treatment of both Russia and Australia. The role of international organizations is also thoroughly covered, as are the conflicts involving Taiwan and Korea and the complexities of international politics in Southeast Asia.

Incorporating discussions of security broadly defined, political economy, development, human rights, refugees, and much more, this up-to-date text offers an introduction to Asia Pacific’s dynamic role in world politics that will encourage students to engage with contemporary issues and debates.

Derek McDougall is professor of political Science at the University of Melbourne.

5TH EDITION

Understanding Contemporary China

Robert E. Gamer and Stanley W. Toops, editors

“This fifth edition remains arguably the best multidisciplinary anthology on China, offering up-to-date information in a single volume. Nearly all articles have an eye on the past, present, and future, which novices to China will appreciate.... Highly recommended.” —Choice

Praise for the previous editions:

“Leading readers almost painlessly through an extensive tour of modern China’s events and issues, this anthology is well planned and, with its extensive bibliographies at the end of each chapter, a useful guide to deeper study as well as a rich resource for acquainting readers with China.... A well woven and brightly colored tapestry creating a kaleidoscopic and vibrant picture of China.”

—Mary Karen Solomon, Education About Asia

China today bears little resemblance to the country introduced in the first edition of Understanding Contemporary China, published nearly two decades ago. Even in just the past five years, dramatic changes have occurred under the leadership of President Xi Jinping.

This new edition of the book reflects those changes, exploring the impact of new domestic policies; China’s role as a behemoth in the world economy; its rapidly modernizing infrastructure; its expanding military presence in the region; the environmental challenges it confronts; and much more. The result is an accessible, well-grounded look at the most crucial issues affecting China today.

Robert E. Gamer is professor emeritus of political science at the University of Missouri–Kansas City. Stanley W. Toops is associate professor of geography and international studies at Miami University.

Understanding: Introductions to the States and Regions of the Contemporary World

Politics and Society in Contemporary China

Elizabeth Freund Larus

“An ideal introductory textbook for both scholars and novices.... Larus’ book is a unique contribution to the field of Chinese politics as well as social and economic history.” —Jay Goulding, Pacific Affairs

“A fine introduction.... The overall organization of this book is intuitive and practical, providing a sound framework around which to organize a course.” —Charlotte Lee, The China Journal

“An impressive textbook.... It is comprehensive, interprets the evolution of Chinese politics from ancient to current times in an incisive and convincing manner, links the present to the past better, and (last but not least for a textbook) is quite readable.” —Cal Clark, American Journal of Chinese Studies

This authoritative text captures the dynamism of Chinese politics and society. Elizabeth Larus begins with a broad sweep of China’s modern history providing essential context for understanding the current political environment. She then makes sense of the dramatic political, social, and economic changes that have occurred across some six decades. The result is a rich and detailed analysis that is both thought-provoking and accessible, appropriate for students at all levels.

Elizabeth Freund Larus is professor of political science and international affairs at the University of Mary Washington.

Will This Be China's Century? A Skeptic's View

Mel Gurtov

“Gurtov ... offers a measured assessment of China’s global influence, writing concisely about the extent of China’s development over recent decades, but also highlighting real challenges and weaknesses.” —Tim Summers, International Affairs

“A crisp and insightful meditation on the implications of a rising China.” —John Delury, Global Asia

Mel Gurtov takes issue with the widespread view that China is on the way to rivaling or even displacing the United States as the dominant world power.

Gurtov identifies serious constraints that will keep the country’s leadership focused for the foreseeable future on challenges at home. Arguing that China’s economic rise has exacerbated problems of social inequality, environmental degradation, official corruption, and more—and that its military capabilities and ambitions are far more limited than many observers have suggested—he makes a strong case that the most productive US policy will be one of engagement on issues of common concern, rather than confrontation or containment.

Mel Gurtov is professor emeritus of political science at Portland State University.

CONTENTS: Exploring the “Century” Issue • Interpreting China’s Rise • Evaluating China’s Place in the World • China’s Reach • China’s “Good Citizenship” • Feet of Clay • The United States by Default? • Whose Century? • Toward Sino-US Reengagement • Reassessing the China Challenge.

China's Regional Relations: Evolving Foreign Policy Dynamics

Mark Beeson and Fujian Li

“Although many other works have examined China’s regional relations, few have done so in the systematic manner that Beeson and Li adopt.” —Brandon K. Yoder, International Studies Review

“An insightful analysis.... The authors display a thorough knowledge of the Chinese perspective, including the views of both the party-state leadership and Chinese netizens.” —Choice

Has China’s much-discussed “charm offensive” come to an end? Are fears about the country’s more assertive foreign policies justified? How will a rising China interact with its regional neighbors? Mark Beeson and Fujian Li address these questions by comprehensively exploring the nature, effectiveness, and implications of China’s foreign policy strategy in Asia and Australia.

Mark Beeson is professor of international politics at Murdoch University. Fujian Li is a research fellow of the East Asian Studies Center at China Foreign Affairs University.

CONTENTS: China Changes Everything • The Rise of Regions • China Transformed • East Asia or the Asia Pacific? • Southeast Asia • Northeast Asia • India, Russia, and Central Asia • Sino-Australian Relations • A Regional or a Global Power?

Taiwan's Democracy Challenged: The Chen Shui-bian Years

Yun-han Chu, Larry Diamond, and Kharis Templeman, editors

“Well-researched, well-structured. Highly recommended.” —Choice

“Each chapter is abundantly filled with detailed material and analyses.... A must-read for Taiwanese scholars and students of Taiwan.” —M. Bob Kao, LSE Review of Books

When Chen Shui-bian, Taiwan’s first non-Kuomintang president, left office in 2008, his tenure was widely considered a disappointment. More recent events, however, suggest the need for a reassessment of this crucial period in Taiwan’s political development. Taiwan’s Democracy Challenged provides that assessment, considering key facets of both the progress toward and the obstacles to democratic consolidation during the Chen Shui-bian era.

Yun-han Chu is professor of political science at National Taiwan University. Larry Diamond is senior fellow at the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and the Hoover Institution, Stanford University. Kharis Templeman is research associate at the Spogli Institute’s Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law.
